DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to the Amendment filed on April 18, 2005.

Claims 10 and 14 were amended, and claim 20 was added.

Applicant's arguments, see page 8-11, filed on April 18, 2005, with respect to the rejections of claims 1-3, 6, 7, 10, and 14-16 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The Rejections of claims 1-3, 6, 7, 10, and 14-16 have been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art fails to disclose or render obvious the claimed combination of an internal combustion motor rotating a motor drive shaft and a method of lubricating an internal combustion motor having reciprocating pistons in a rotating cylinder block including:

Regarding claim 1:

a journal bearing being within a roller.

Regarding claim 14:

the cylindrical bearing surface being in a plane being coaxial with the rotation axis

Regarding claim 18:

placing the at least one location in fluid communication with a piston fluid passageway extending through the piston to an inner surface where the piston bearing surface abuts the cylindrical bearing surface."

Conclusion

The IDS (PTO-1449) filed on September 27, 2004 has been considered. An initialized copy is attached hereto.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

- Thomas (Patent Number 6,698,394 B2) discloses a homogeneous charger compression ignition and barrel engines having a roller 72, which may be replaced with slides or other designs allowing movement the piston and track; however, Thomas does not disclose the claimed limitation of a journal bearing within the roller.

- Thomas et al. (Patent Number 6,834,636 B2) disclose an single ended barrel engine with double ended, double roller pistons.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
